

Szabina Torma

From her childhood, Ms Torma loves the ever-changing and wonderful nature. The idea to capture this beauty came about ten years ago. Photographing the landscape fills her soul with joy and she claims that the feeling of photographing is incomparable.

Photographing is a hobby, spiritual relaxation from everyday monotony. She tries to see things not only with her eyes, but also with her heart.

Zoltán Duray

*36 years old, hearing impaired since birth.
Most of the time Mr Duray takes photos of landscapes, silence and historical landmark.
His pictures are taken from distance, giving an insight. By capturing the quiet moments of joy in showing the beauty countryside, his pictures suggest serenity and endless peace.*

Ervin Horesnyík

Mr Horesnyík is especially interested in nature photography, including photographing animals. Being a maximalist he spends weeks or months on a specific subject, until the picture in his head appears on his monitor. In addition to taking photos of animals, he also likes social documentary photography, portrait photography, nightlife photography and sports photography. With his photos he wants to create something special and something lasting, so that people can experience he gained throughout the years. He says that his best photo is that he is going to take tomorrow.

Lajos Mészáros

Mr Mészáros is mostly interested in nature photography, but he also likes sports photography and wedding photography. During his amateur career, he took many photos and participated at several exhibitions. When taking pictures, his aim is better to take the moment than his fellow colleagues do.

Norbert Oriskó

Mr Oriskó is an IT specialist, currently working as a journalist for a news portal. He became passionate about photographing in a very early age. He likes taking public and landscape photographs mainly in his hometown and region.

Károly Peczár

Mr Peczár became interested in photography 25 years ago, firstly capturing of his trips, later he became more curious about landscape photography and about street-photo over the last few years.

Photography is not just his hobby, but part of his life, kind of a stepping-stone, that helps to take off into a new dimension. He thinks that there is nothing impossible in photography, it is enough to keep an eye open and to seize the moment when it arrives.

Károly Horváth

He always showed keen interest in fine arts, in childhood he was drawing a lot with pencil and had various attempts with ink.

Three years ago after the death of his father, an amateur photographer Mr Horváth became interested in photographing. He tries to make attempt to delve into technics of photographing and compositions, mostly self-thaught.

He is impressed by the meteoric and celestial phenomena and astrophotography visible in Királyhelmec and Bodrog-Tisza region, since it is particularly important to be in the right place in a right time and catch the moment.

Viktor Szemán

He became interested in photography 10 years ago, mainly because of studying clouds. He is fascinated by meteorological phenomena. Mr Szemán is mainly taking photographs of different climatic events, landscape and portraits.